

Within these walls, you are expected to:

- Give each performance your full attention
- Understand that some performances contain adult content, strobe lighting, and/or fog machines
- Silence all electronics and Put your cell phone away
- Avoid Filming or taking pictures of any performances without written permission from that school's director
- Keep your feet on the floor and not on the seat in front of you
- avoid talking to those around you during performances
- Stay seated throughout the whole performance
- Keep aisles clear
- Keep doors closed during all performances
- Exit the theater if you have a crying child
- Respect the judge's space
- Celebrate the courage of each individual performer

Your respect for the performers, directors, and judges is an important component in emphasizing the positive values of NSAA activity participation. Thank you for your cooperation.
